Scarcity of Turkeys

A turkey famine threatens Kentucky, especially in the central part, just as the time for Thanksgiving season rolls around and at a time when the luscious bird is most in demand. Twelve or fourteen counties, mostly in the Bluegrass region are estimated annually to receive something like a half a million dollars for their yearly production of turkeys, but this year the amount is going to be greatly reduced.

Reports from out in the country are that the supply is greatly reduced. Over in Woodford the condition is said to be the same, while Anderson, Boyle, Scott and other large producers are reported to be much behind the yearly "crop" of turkeys.

Last spring was unusually damp and wet weather is always fatal to young turkeys. Then, in the summer, complaints like cholera and other ailments to which the feathered tribe is peculiarly susceptible got in their work and the result is that the usual production will be cut down as much as half and probably more by the time that the biggest demand comes from the Eastern markets.

Up around Nicholas, Bracken and counties in that section of the State, reports come that turkeys are short, too. Dealers say that if the conditions which prevail in Kentucky hold good over other States the price will go higher this winter than in many years. Turkey raising has proven a very profitable industry for the thirty housewives of the South. With the production greatly curtailed this season there will be many a Christmas stocking wanting in some of the luxuries which turkey money was wont to produce for the little ones—Harrodsburg Reporter.

It's a Crime
To neglect your health. The worst neglect that you can be guilty of is to allow constipation, biliousness or any liver or bowel trouble to continue. It is poisoning your entire system and may lead to a serious chronic disease. Take Ballard's Hербine and get absolutely well. The sure cure for any and all troubles of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold by Red Cross Drug Store.

A Joker.
A seedy-looking man entered a store in Trenton the other day, and asked for assistance, backing up his request with a long tale of sickness and lack of employment.

With a wink at his clerk, the merchant pointed to a friend who happened to be in the place and replied: "Ask that gentleman, he is the proprietor. I am only a clerk."

The friend received the beggar's request in a sympathetic manner, and, turning to the merchant, remarked: "This seems to be a worthy case. Mr. Jones give him a dollar from the cash register," and walked out of the store.

It was in vain that the merchant protested that it had been a joke. So insistent did the seedy one become that "debos" directions should be carried out that it was necessary to do so in order to be rid of him.—Lippincott's.

When you have a cold the first thing to do is have the bowels move. Do not take anything that may constipate and most of the old-fashioned cold cures do constipate. Try Kennedy's Laxative Glycerin Syrup. It drives the cold from the system by a free yet gentle action of the bowels. It stops the cough. It is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by Red Cross Pharmacy.

WARD DIES

Victims of Unfortunate Tragedy on Election Day.

Tom Ward who was shot on election day at Cardwell by Ernest Holliday an account of which was given in our last issue, is dead. It was believed for a time that he was not seriously hurt, and hopes were entertained for his recovery, but on last Thursday night death ended his earthly sufferings. The tragedy occurred in the village of Cardwell in North Washington, a short distance from the polls. There were but two eye witnesses to the unfortunate affair, who we understand have prudently refused to publicly discuss it. The fight is supposed to have been the result of an election quarrel as Ward was a Democrat and Holliday a Republican. Both men were highly respected and have always been considered good citizens. Both were born in the county and have been friends from childhood. Ward was about 30 years of age and was a son of Newton Ward. He was a farmer and had always been a very successful one. He leaves a wife and five children. Holliday is also about thirty years of age and has a family. He is a son of the late Jeff Holliday, and is regarded as a peaceable citizen, and is a successful farmer and well known stock trader.

Immediately after the shooting Holliday surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Masters and was brought to town where he was placed under bond to await the action of the grand jury now in session on a charge of malicious shooting.

Since the death of Ward however Holliday has not been seen out it is generally believed that he will surrender when an indictment is returned. The tragedy is deplored by the whole county, and was a misfortune to both parties and their families.

His Proper Field
A colored man was brought before a police judge charged with stealing chickens. He pleaded guilty and received sentence, when the judge asked how it was managed to lift those chickens right under the window of the owners' house when there was a dog loose in the yard.

"It wouldn't be no use, judge," said the man, "to try to 'plain this thing to yo' like. Ef yo' was to try to yo' like as no would get yer hide full of shen' get n' chickens, nuther. Ef yo' would to engage in any race, judge, yo' better stick to it what yo' am 'familiar.'—Ladies Home Journal.

Head Cut Off
Last Saturday night, about 11:30 o'clock train No. 704, running as extra on the Southern railway, ran over a colored man near the North Main street crossing killing him instantly. As usual, the train came to a stop about one hundred feet east of the crossing, and the engine was cut loose from the balance of the train and went up to the chute to be cooled. As soon as the engine pulled away from the train, the brakeman who had made the uncoupling discovered the head of a man by the side of the track and blood on the rail ties.

He hastened to the rear of the train and summoned Conductor Wheeler to the scene. Upon examination, they found that the body had been dragged

The School of Skinny.

J. T. C. NOE in Southern School Journal

Have you never heard the story of the good old country school, with its rule-split-bottom benches and its ancient dunce's stool. Where Webster's Blue-Back Speller was the only standard text, and supplied the place of grammar that our late forefathers used; where they never heard of Latin or the Greek subjunctive mood; but sang their multiplications like a patriotic ode?

The Master, he was skinny, with a lean and hungry look. And a countenance as placid as a frozen winter brook. His brow was broad and Grecian, and his eyes were small and keen. And his head was staffed with knowledge of a dozen books. I went; and they say his nose was Roman as the bill of any hawk. And his boys were all perfection, for they had to walk the chalk. And yet I've often wondered if they really always walked. And yet I've often wondered if they really always talked. For five often heard my father say the model of the school got locked at least three times a day, as a pretty general rule. And I lament the good old method, as a lost, forgotten art. Of imparting knowledge in a way that made a fellow smart.

I wish we had the secret now of making boys walk. Instead of always watching for a chance to throw some chalk. But the art, I think, was buried with the Blue-Back Spelling Book. And the piercing eye of Skinny, that no mortal could break. And the gesticulated paper windows of the good old country school.

It may be through psychology and molly-coddle stuff. We often talk in institutes, we've lost the power to bluff. Perhaps 'twas Pestalozzi, Froebel and John Herbart. Who robbed the wand of Skinny of its pedagogic art; I'll not discuss philosophy, but we know about the chalk. That no theoretic dream of man can make a boy walk.

ACCOUNTING ASKED

Another Suit Filed Against Burley Tobacco Society.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 6.—Another suit was filed against the Burley Tobacco Society here today asking that a receiver for the society be appointed. A suit was filed in the Clark Circuit Court by J. E. Gaiskill, Eli B. Dooley, J. T. Brown and L. B. Cockrell.

The petitioners ask for an accounting from the Burley Tobacco Society for moneys received from the sale of the 1906 and 1907 crops, and also allege that the organization has more than one million dollars belonging to the growers of these two named years.

The suit is filed by Junett & Joutt attorneys of this city, and asks that defendant be required to disclose all moneys received by it from the sale of the tobacco contained in the pools of 1906 and 1907 from the so-called buyers' fee, from lending said money and from all other sources growing out of or connected with said tobacco, also to disclose all disbursements of said moneys and to make a full and complete accounting of said receipts and disbursements and all other matters connected therewith and to make a complete settlement and show the balance of said funds now in its hands, and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the property and funds.

Attached to this petition is a list of interrogatories, which the plaintiffs asked to be answered by defendant. The suit is similar to the one filed in the Fayette Circuit Court by Pendleton county growers several days since.

The motion for a receiver will be heard by Judge J. M. Benton probably November 16.

Whoooping Cough

It is an old saying that whooping cough must run its course, but the use of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey has demonstrated beyond doubt that such is not the case. It can be cured by the use of this remedy. Look for the bull on the bottle.

Curious Freak.
Mr. H. J. Norton brought to this office a half sweet potato which has grown into a perfectly shaped duck, with beak, eyes, wings and every part as complete as though fashioned by the hand of a carver. It has excited a good deal of comment from visitors at this office.—Harrodsburg Herald.

To Build Warehouses
At a meeting of the Green county Board of Directors of the Burley pool, the building of two warehouses for the storing of this year's crop of tobacco was decided upon. A vote was taken upon various points in the report of the buildings, with the result that Greensburg was selected as the most available point for locating one of the warehouses, and Deary, near the LaRue county line, was selected as the other point.

It is stated that a large portion of the crop in Green county has been pooled and that the members of the society in that county are jubilant over the success which has crowned their efforts in securing cession of the society to pool this year's crop.—LaRue Herald.

FLAMES RAGE

On Farm of C. F. Bosley 5 Miles From Town.

On last Friday about noon fire started on the farm of C. F. Bosley, 5 miles from Springfield on the Springfield and Lebanon turnpike. The fire came in the place from an adjoining farm, and the wind fanned the blaze which burned through a 20-acre orchard the flames being fed by the crab grass which had grown up after the corn was laid by. The corn was standing on the stalk and the flames leaped from blade to blade burning the corn and stalks and the field was swept clear. A corn crib near the field caught and burnt together with what corn that had been gathered. The flames were going in the direction of a tobacco barn in which was hung about eight acres of tobacco. An effort was made to stop the fire in its progress before it reached the barn, and the effort was partly successful as the blaze burning in that direction was extinguished, but soon the wind which was blowing carried a burning shunk to the dry tobacco which immediately took fire and burned together with the barn. Much of the farm was burnt over and most of the fencing on it was destroyed. The tenant house on the Lebanon and Springfield turnpike was saved with difficulty. The neighbors were attracted to the scene which threatened the entire neighborhood, and the flames were finally extinguished. Mr. Bosley's loss will be heavy.

The Goose is Intelligent.

You must no longer use the expression, "As silly as a goose." The authorities of half a dozen countries have been studying the goose of late years,
and they have come to the conclusion
that she is the wisest bird among them
all. She never quarrels with any other bird, she butts her head against the rooster, she is far braver than the chicken, and if given a fair show she can beat the fox.

A Shock of Gossip

A flock of geese gathered around the barney at night in a much greater protection than the watchdog. They are light sleepers and will give the alarm the instant they see a stranger moving about. We should say "as wise as a goose" and give her all due credit.

four counties of the district was 1228 while that of Hon. C. S.
Hill was slightly less. Mr. T.

county for Representative was 104.

Yes, we are receiving fresh oysters every Thursday, and one trial of them will place you on our list of oyster customers.
They are fine. Want you try them and see?

Major Thomas H. Hays died at his home in Louisville from Pneumonia Tuesday morning.
He was 72 years old and a confederate veteran. He was known in this county being related to the family of that name here.

One of the advantages which is being brought to the people of the county by the large tobacco market here, is that it is making a demand for property here. Farms are selling at prices undreamed of a few years ago. And in the town of Springfield sometime ago there were sixteen vacant houses. Now all have been sold or rented. I look like there is a boom coming for the town.

Two Negroes Killed.
Word was received here this week of the killing in Bloomfield of two negroes by Louis Reidel the town marshal. Reidel heard a disturbance in the neighborhood of the town hall
There were several shots fired and Reidel walked down to find the cause of the trouble. A large crowd of negroes had gathered and were quite boisterous.
Reidel was endeavoring to stop the disturbance when he was struck a blow which brought him to the ground. No sooner had it happened than John Simms and Clay Dick Duncan advanced upon him while he was down and commenced striking him. He succeeded in getting his pistol and shooting both his assailants. Simms was killed instantly and Duncan lived several hours. Mr. Reidel is a brother of Mr. J. Walter Reidel of this place, and has always made an excellent officer in Bloomfield.

ized yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. Father Hennessy. The bride wore a
